Councilor Frank Baker Will Not Seek Re-Election

Boston, MA – Today I am announcing I will not seek reelection to the Boston City Council. Serving as a Boston City Councilor and representing District Three for six terms has been one of the greatest honors of my life.

This decision did not come lightly. After lengthy deliberation, I am confident and certain this is my time to depart the Council and serve in a different capacity. The privilege and responsibility of serving as a city councilor requires my round-the-clock dedication. I cannot fulfill my obligation in any other way than 100% committed to the duty of this role. For an assortment of reasons, now is the right time for me to move on to the next chapter of my life, with my family.

Over the course of my time on the council, District Three has transformed into an even more vibrant and thriving Community. We have cultivated long-term working relationships leading to significant investments in our District. We have made substantial advancements in the expansion of the housing market, along with the growth and development of our business communities.

I am exceptionally grateful, as well as proud to have actively engaged in the hard and humble work that comes with being an elected official. I will continue to be an active and dedicated member of this community, where my decades of community relationships, planning, development, and facilitation will serve to benefit.

Soon, my family and I will spend some well-earned time together to reflect on the service completed, as we approach this meaning milestone. My strong sense of faith, courage and passion for our great City of Boston will guide me, as I navigate this turning point. I have enormous gratitude for the support my staff and I have received during our time on the Council. I look forward to concluding my term and service to District Three.
